What is an Open Space & Recreation Plan?

An open space and recreation plan is a blueprint for progress; it establishes priorities and identifies actions over a seven-year period that will guide the town on matters involving open space.

Why is it important?

It is a critical tool for creating an inventory of a community's protected land and water areas and for identifying undeveloped parcels.

Based on community values and input, all ages have a stake in this plan and everyone can participate in its development.
